

Opinions as to the results of the recent tariff law and the effects of the McKinley law on the results of agricultural products were valued at $799,238,232.

TARIFF PICTURES.

Our total exports of products of agriculture were valued at $256,800,972.

In 1890 after fourteen years of a Free-trade Tariff. In 1892 under the McKinley law our exports of agricultural products were valued at $799,238,232.

Which policy closes foreign markets to our farmers?

—New York Press.

If Bayard for Secretary of State, why not Garfield for Attorney General? Let the old firm reorganize by all means.

Now that the Democracy is about to assume the reins of Government the cry for a National bankruptcy law grows louder.

Congress is urged to establish a Federal road department. Not while Representative Cummings holds the "state rights" estate.

Tammany got its fine work in against the National Quarantine act. It is a great triumph for Hill, Croker and the undertakers.

The defeat of the National Quarantine bill simply means that a Democratic Congress has more regard for the partisan interests of Tammany Hall than for the public health of the United States.

With a majority in the House so large that the responsibility for legislation cannot be shifted or evaded, the Democracy is wishing that the wicked Republicans won't allow it to repeal the Sherman act!

At this distance it looks as though the Populists and other political jugglers of various shades and grades were doing a great deal to render Kansas a first-class state for order-loving people to keep away from.

Increased imports in 1892 of nearly $50,000,000 over the preceding year somehow fail to show that the McKinley Tariff is that terrible "Chinese wall" bugaboo which has been used to frighten the Democratic children.

The pro-British organs of the Dominion deny that there is any annexation sentiment in that country. Just the same, about 1,000,000 Canadians have annexed themselves to the United States by immigration within recent years.

In the regard of a Congress solidly Democratic the political interests of Tammany Hall outweigh the needs of the rest of the United States. Health Officer Jenkins is "vindicated," and the Federal Government stands rebuked.

If the Kansas Senatorship is really for sale, as it seems to be, it is because Populist trucking and general political cunningness have made it so. All signs indicate that Kansas is badly in need of a bath and a period of political rest.

Secretary Foster estimates that there will be a surplus of about $20,000,000 in the Treasury when he retires from office. But what will a little sum like that amount to when a new Democratic Congress with its insatiable schemes gets after it?

Inasmuch as the Indiana State Senate refused to adjourn as a mark of respect to the late President Hayes it should follow up its action by reading Mr. Cleveland out of the Democratic party for his audacity in going to Ohio to attend General Hayes's funeral.

Objector Holman is already at the front prepared to make all sorts of trouble with the appropriations. The venerable cheese-paring economist has got to do something to attract attention, and will probably choose the old theatrical method with which he is so familiar.

DAILY PUBLIC OPINION

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1893.

FIRST YEAR.

ONE CENT.

PERSONAL

W. L. Nicholson is visiting at Newport.

J. Henry Pecor the shoeman is in Boston.

S. T. Collins of Flemingsburg is in the city yesterday.

Miss Martha Wheatley is the guest of Mrs. Paul Hofflich.

Miss Ida Collins of Flemingsburg has recovered from a severe illness.

Colonel James B. Thomas of Philadelphia is in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Hattie Thompson has gone to Quincy to see her mother, who is quite ill.

Miss Isabel Barkley of this city attended the Williams-Ducker wedding at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reilly of Flemingsburg attended the Williams-Ducker nuptials at Newport.

The many friends of Elias Collins, Jaeger of Fleming county, will be glad to hear that his health is improving.

The many friends of Miss Marie Hains will be pleased to learn that she is recovering after a severe illness of four weeks.

THOMAS M. MOORE, 31, and Miss Lucie Adams, 22, both of Cincinnati, were married by Judge Philster Wednesday night at the Clerk's Office.

JAMES C. CONLEY of Boyd county and Miss Hattie Moore of Fleming county were married at the County Clerk's Office yesterday by Judge Philster.

THE SPRING like weather continues.

BOOK, to the wife of John Hayes, Fleming pike, a ten-pound boy.

THE late Dr. Dudley of Georgetown carried insurance on his life to the amount of $30,000.

G. W. SCHULTZ says his natural bridge is unsafe and persons crossing to town will do so at their own risk.

THE Cleveland stables at Clinton Springs, near Erlanger, were destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $4,000.

AN alarm of fire early in the evening came nearly breaking up the Bill Nye and Burbank entertainment at Harrodsburg.

H. WIRT NEWKIRK, one of the founders of The Williamsburg Times, has been elected to the Legislature by the Republicans from Michigan.

THE appraisers of the estate of Sidney Yewell, the old miser who died at Owensboro a few days ago, find him to have been worth $100,000.

THE Republican caucus of the Senate decided to admit Oklahoma, Utah and New Mexico to statehood, and to refuse admission to Arizona.

THE Farmers' National Bank of Portsmouth has entered suit against Geo. Salt and others of Covington for $8,000 due on a promissory note.

JERRY COCKRELL, one of the most popular citizens of Montgomery county, died at Mt. Sterling Wednesday after a few hours illness of cholera morbus, aged about 30 years.

JAMES R. LEMON and Lela D. Hickson of Paris were married in Louisville. They first went to Cincinnati, but the age of the bride prevented the issuance of a marriage license.

REMEMBER, THE LEBRON prints "Help Wanted," "Lost," "Found," and similar notices not of a business character, free of charge. The only thing we require is that the copy be sent in before 9 o'clock on day of publication.

ED. PRICE of Cleveland, who became infatuated with an actress of Grimes's Celler Door Company, still pursues the object of his affection, and the company has been robbed three times and a newspaper space. What an advertising scheme!

B. P. BUNNE was killed in the E. and O. freight yards at Ironton a few days ago. He carried an insurance policy on his life, and now a woman has appeared in the Probate Court and filed a claim for $1,000, claiming that Bunne is the father of her illegitimate child.

UNCLAIMED deposits in the First National Bank of Ironton amount to $351.59.

JOHN CHAMBERS and Sallie Harris, colored, were granted marriage license yesterday.

W. H. WALLINGFORD, formerly of this locality, is spoken of for Chief of Police, to succeed Cottingham the usurper.

Who knows anything about Andy Leake? Joseph Witt of Omaha, Texas, wants to hear something about him.

GEORGE and TOM DAILY, brothers, hunt each other with clubs near Lancaster. One got a broken arm. Good boys.

WILLIAM B. BENNY, a prominent Odd-fellow, K. of H. and ex Union soldier, died suddenly at Richmond, aged 60.

WILS HOWARD, one of the Kentucky Howard-Turner feud makers, has been convicted of murder at Lehigh, Mo.

THE headquarters of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., have been removed from Columbus, O., to Baltimore.

LARK SIMPSON shot Andy Diamond near Lanesburg because he stole some grain from his warehouse. Diamond died of heart failure.

JAMES SCOTT and Miss Anna L. Sidwell, each 19, of near Fern Lea, were married at the Clerk's Office yesterday. Judge Philster officiating.

WILLIAM CUKKINGTON of the C. and O., who was hurt a few days ago on that road, is in a critical condition in the Covington Hospital.

THE Gazette complains of an unusual amount of drunkenness in Flemingsburg of late. This is the good result of a prohibitory ordinance.

THOMAS M. MOORE, 31, and Miss Lucie Adams, 22, both of Cincinnati, were married by Judge Philster Wednesday night at the Clerk's Office.

JAMES C. CONLEY of Boyd county and Miss Hattie Moore of Fleming county were married at the County Clerk's Office yesterday by Judge Philster.

THE SPRING like weather continues.

BOOK, to the wife of John Hayes, Fleming pike, a ten-pound boy.

THE late Dr. Dudley of Georgetown carried insurance on his life to the amount of $30,000.

G. W. SCHULTZ says his natural bridge is unsafe and persons crossing to town will do so at their own risk.

THE Cleveland stables at Clinton Springs, near Erlanger, were destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $4,000.

AN alarm of fire early in the evening came nearly breaking up the Bill Nye and Burbank entertainment at Harrodsburg.

H. WIRT NEWKIRK, one of the founders of The Williamsburg Times, has been elected to the Legislature by the Republicans from Michigan.

THE appraisers of the estate of Sidney Yewell, the old miser who died at Owensboro a few days ago, find him to have been worth $100,000.

THE Republican caucus of the Senate decided to admit Oklahoma, Utah and New Mexico to statehood, and to refuse admission to Arizona.

THE Farmers' National Bank of Portsmouth has entered suit against Geo. Salt and others of Covington for $8,000 due on a promissory note.

JERRY COCKRELL, one of the most popular citizens of Montgomery county, died at Mt. Sterling Wednesday after a few hours illness of cholera morbus, aged about 30 years.

JAMES R. LEMON and Lela D. Hickson of Paris were married in Louisville. They first went to Cincinnati, but the age of the bride prevented the issuance of a marriage license.

REMEMBER, THE LEBRON prints "Help Wanted," "Lost," "Found," and similar notices not of a business character, free of charge. The only thing we require is that the copy be sent in before 9 o'clock on day of publication.

ED. PRICE of Cleveland, who became infatuated with an actress of Grimes's Celler Door Company, still pursues the object of his affection, and the company has been robbed three times and a newspaper space. What an advertising scheme!

B. P. BUNNE was killed in the E. and O. freight yards at Ironton a few days ago. He carried an insurance policy on his life, and now a woman has appeared in the Probate Court and filed a claim for $1,000, claiming that Bunne is the father of her illegitimate child.

UNCLAIMED deposits in the First National Bank of Ironton amount to $351.59.

JOHN CHAMBERS and Sallie Harris, colored, were granted marriage license yesterday.

W. H. WALLINGFORD, formerly of this locality, is spoken of for Chief of Police, to succeed Cottingham the usurper.

Who knows anything about Andy Leake? Joseph Witt of Omaha, Texas, wants to hear something about him.

GEORGE and TOM DAILY, brothers, hunt each other with clubs near Lancaster. One got a broken arm. Good boys.

WILLIAM B. BENNY, a prominent Odd-fellow, K. of H. and ex Union soldier, died suddenly at Richmond, aged 60.

WILS HOWARD, one of the Kentucky Howard-Turner feud makers, has been convicted of murder at Lehigh, Mo.

THE headquarters of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., have been removed from Columbus, O., to Baltimore.

LARK SIMPSON shot Andy Diamond near Lanesburg because he stole some grain from his warehouse. Diamond died of heart failure.

JAMES SCOTT and Miss Anna L. Sidwell, each 19, of near Fern Lea, were married at the Clerk's Office yesterday. Judge Philster officiating.

WILLIAM CUKKINGTON of the C. and O., who was hurt a few days ago on that road, is in a critical condition in the Covington Hospital.

THE Gazette complains of an unusual amount of drunkenness in Flemingsburg of late. This is the good result of a prohibitory ordinance.

THOMAS M. MOORE, 31, and Miss Lucie Adams, 22, both of Cincinnati, were married by Judge Philster Wednesday night at the Clerk's Office.

JAMES C. CONLEY of Boyd county and Miss Hattie Moore of Fleming county were married at the County Clerk's Office yesterday by Judge Philster.

SKETCHES BY RODNEY

WRITTEN ESPECIALLY FOR READERS OF "THE PUBLIC OPINION."

Creede and Jimtown, Colorado—Description of Their Civilization and Civilization—A Wild Western Metropolis.

When the Lord and N. C. Creede located Jimtown they evidently did so with a view to its total destruction in the event of a fire. I cannot assert that this was intentional on the part of Mr. Creede, but I am quite satisfied the Lord had that object in sight and intended it should be a complete job at the proper moment. At all events a chimney and the necessary draught had already been prepared before a plank had been sawed or a nail driven.

Any one who should ever have selected such a site for a city to destroy by fire, and to comprehend, unless its founder wished to hide the iniquity, which he foresaw would inevitably follow the building of Jimtown, from the open gaze of civilized communities and of the moral society away up in the defiles and perpendicular canyons of "Willow Creek," on the Western slope of the Rocky Mountains.

However, both the town of Creede and Jimtown, built up and completed, was as singular in its architecture and construction as it was unique in its topographical location.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Creede and Jimtown, Colorado—Description of Their Civilization and Civilization—A Wild Western Metropolis.

When the Lord and N. C. Creede located Jimtown they evidently did so with a view to its total destruction in the event of a fire. I cannot assert that this was intentional on the part of Mr. Creede, but I am quite satisfied the Lord had that object in sight and intended it should be a complete job at the proper moment. At all events a chimney and the necessary draught had already been prepared before a plank had been sawed or a nail driven.

Any one who should ever have selected such a site for a city to destroy by fire, and to comprehend, unless its founder wished to hide the iniquity, which he foresaw would inevitably follow the building of Jimtown, from the open gaze of civilized communities and of the moral society away up in the defiles and perpendicular canyons of "Willow Creek," on the Western slope of the Rocky Mountains.

However, both the town of Creede and Jimtown, built up and completed, was as singular in its architecture and construction as it was unique in its topographical location.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

Imagine a small burg of some seventy-five or one hundred houses, built right above a well-known fault as an apology for houses and crowded into a narrow gulch, scarcely one square mile in extent, and the town is there, dashing through the town at the foot of a perpendicular granite precipice upwards of one thousand feet high and you have upper Creede, or Creede proper, as it is called.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

Important Meeting of the Ohio and Local Boards.

Dr. Stanton Details the State's Duty in Preventing Cholera.

The News of a Recurrence of Cholera in Russia, Germany and France is a Unmistakable Sign of the Danger That Again Threatens Us.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—There was a large attendance of medical gentlemen present Thursday afternoon in the first Congressional church, when the meeting of the state and local boards of health was called to order by President Conklin, of the state board, who announced that the object of the meeting was to consider measures to prevent the introduction and spread of cholera in the United States, and other topics in line with their duties. Following was Thursday's programme.

Introductory Remarks.—S. A. Conklin, M. D., president board of health, Canton.

Practical Suggestions on Cholera.—S. P. Wise, M. D., member state board of health, Millersburg.

The Disposal of the Cholera Dead.—W. F. McLean, M. D., health officer, Weymouth.

The Diagnosis of Cholera.—Thos. C. Hoover, M. D., member state board of health, Columbus.

The State's Duty in Preventing Cholera.—R. Stanton, M. D., member state board of health, Cincinnati.

Water Supplies as Carriers of Cholera.—E. T. Nelson, M. A., Ph. D., member state board of health, Delaware.

The Cholera in India.—H. H. Hille, M. D., of Ohio State university.

One of the most interesting as well as the most instructive of the papers read at the session Thursday afternoon was by Dr. Stanton, the Cincinnati member of the state board. He held that the news of a recurrence of cholera in Russia, Germany and France was an unmistakable sign of the danger that again threatens us. He believed that the co-operation of the national, state and local boards was the strictest sanitary measures is essential. The quarantine authorities should all be vested in the general government and not a patch, water laws as at present. Information looking to the protection of the public health from cholera should be collected classified and disseminated.

"The state board should be given jurisdiction and absolute power in the enforcement of all sanitary regulations in time of peril to the public health. Medical inspectors should be posted along the borders of the state at the crossings of the national highways, to inspect incoming passengers who fall from disease-infected points. The legislature, in view of the probable emergency, should grant to the state board the command of the state board. The authorities and the people must be taught that cleanliness is essential to health, and how to keep it.

One of those who took a prominent part in the discussion of the evening and was listened to with interest, was Dr. H. H. Hille, of Cincinnati.

Excitement in an Asylum.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—Intense excitement was created Thursday night at Central insane asylum by the breaking in of a fire just as the patients were being marched into the assembly room for a fancy dress ball. The fire was extinguished before serious damage was done, but the patients were so much alarmed that a terrible panic was narrowly averted, as they became almost uncontrollable.

Fall in a Saw-Mill.

CARLEIGH, Ill., Jan. 27.—A serious accident occurred on the farm of John Proshun, a well-to-do farmer, living a few miles south of here, Thursday morning. His fifteen-year-old son Henry was helping cut wood with a saw operated by steam, when in some way the log came in contact with the machinery and was almost torn from his body. His injuries may prove fatal.

Greaver Initiated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—President-elect Cleveland was initiated into the Sigma Chi college fraternity Thursday morning. A badge of the fraternity was presented to him. It was adorned and worn by the president-elect with an interest worthy of the enthusiasm of an under-graduate.

Stallion Will Stay.

ROME, Jan. 27.—There is the best authority for stating that there is no truth in the report that Mrs. Stallion is to be recalled and replaced by Archbishop Ireland. On the contrary, it is the intention of the pope to keep his position in America more firmly.

Business Part Destroyed by Fire.

GREENWICH, Miss., Jan. 27.—The business portion of Tchula City, Miss., was destroyed by fire, which started at a depot and spread to business houses in the town was consumed. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $75,000.

More Money for New York's Capital.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The legislature Thursday passed a bill appropriating $700,000 more for the "completion" of the capitol building, which has already cost over $200,000 and twenty years.

E. & Gold Borrowed by Rothschild.

VIENNA, Jan. 27.—The Rothschild syndicate has borrowed $10,000,000 in gold in the United States for the use of Austria in introducing her currency reform.

Tennessee State Officers Elected.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 27.—The legislative Thursday in joint convention elected W. S. Morgan speaker of the house, James A. Harris controller, and E. R. Craig treasurer.

IN CONGRESS.

Very Little Business Transacted in Either Branch Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—SENATE.—There were not many senators in the chamber Thursday during the debate on the application, but those who were present witnessed the remarkable circumstances of the day, having their argument against the constitutionality of the bill sustained by a majority of 10.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

Very little business was transacted in either branch Thursday. The House passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic and the Senate passed a bill creating a committee on the alcohol traffic.

A CONSPIRACY.

Big Coal Dealers of Rochester, N. Y., Indicted.

They Are Charged With Combining to Prevent Competition.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The shadow which has been hovering over the Rochester coal trade for several days took material form at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the grand jury reported to Justice Brainerd, in the district court, indicting the big coal dealers in the exchange with conspiracy.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

The indictment charges that the members of the Rochester coal exchange combined to prevent free competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price. The indictment is based upon the testimony of a witness who reported that the Rochester coal exchange, a combination of coal dealers, conspired to prevent competition in the sale of coal, and to advance the price.

NEGRO HANGED

And Shot to Death a Confession of Robbery From Him.

MILAN, Tenn., Jan. 27.—The town of Milan, on the Illinois Central railroad, was the scene of mob violence. Tom Butler, a countryman, came to town, and while intoxicated, fell asleep on the depot platform. When he awoke $50 dollars was missing from his pocket.

A Negro tramp, Lewis Newborn, was seen with the money and was taken out by a mob and given 50 lashes with a rawhide, but refused to surrender the money, claiming he was innocent.

After the mob had beaten him, half dead, he crawled to the depot and begged to be admitted. He was hidden in the freight room by the operator.

At 3 o'clock a mob of desperate men, composed entirely of the country friends of Butler, filled the platform and uttered cries and cries of "Bring out the black brute!" "Hang the negro!" "Burn him!" A demand was made upon the operator, Paul Pearce, to deliver up the Negro.

Pearce informed them that he would defend the man with his life, warning them not to attempt violence. Heavy iron rails were found near the track, and using these as battering rams, the mob burst in. Pearce fired several shots, but was made a prisoner and securely bound to prevent interference.

The Negro was jerked from his hiding place, but slipped from his captors' hands, and, groping in the dark, he fought desperately for his life. Almost beaten into unconsciousness, he was carried into the bottom near the depot.

There he lay, his head and torso of a dead Negro was swung from a limb. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so. He was let down, and again asked to give up the money, but he refused to do so.

_____

100